PRESENTED BY MICHELS CORPORATION

Charity Open

I am honored and proud to hear the countless ways that both the SSM Health at Home Hospice and SSM Health Cancer Care teams help individuals and families receive high-quality, compassionate care right here in the communities where they live.

Our hospice team offers comforting and supportive care and enhances each person's quality of life so they can remain in their own homes or utilize our services at the Hospice Home of Hope. Each patient is given their own personal plan of care, and hospice services help anyone facing the final journey of their life.

Our cancer care professionals provide state-of-the-art cancer care for patients in a 10-county area surrounding Fond du Lac. As the only accredited cancer care center in this area, we offer leading-edge treatments, clinical trials, and much more.

The Agnesian HealthCare Foundation is proud to philanthropically support our hospice and cancer care services through its annual Charity Open. Since 1989, the Charity Open has raised more than $7.6 million and we rely on individuals, business leaders, and organizations to help us reach those ambitious goals.

Please take a look at how your support of the Charity Open will help us continue to expand and enhance these critical services. Your gift stays local and will continue to support our friends, families, neighbors, and colleagues with the right care at the right time.

Regards,

Mason Gravelle

Jeff Faris'

LEGACY

The Charity Open, a premier event bringing together more than 300 esteemed community members and leaders, is a day of golf, raffles, dinner, silent and live auctions, and entertainment. An impactful program and touching patient testimonial are featured.

"I felt honored to care for Jeff alongside his impressive hospice team – it was truly a perfect match. We utilized most, if not all, of the services hospice provides. From the nurses to the social workers, to the chaplains and pastoral care, we were supported through every phase of Jeff's care." – Anne Faris, Jeff's wife

Those who knew Jeff knew him for his silly sense of humor, love for telling stories, and a smile that shined through his eyes. He had a hardworking entrepreneurial spirit and was a servant leader within his community. To his family, he was the greatest, most courageous, loving father and husband who devoted his life to his family. In 2016, Jeff began experiencing shortness of breath that was unusual for him. Seeking medical care, Jeff was ultimately diagnosed with idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis, a disease where the origin cannot be pinpointed, and was given just five years to live.

Despite his terminal prognosis, with the love and support of his family – and his faith, he remained positive through it all. He would not give up easily.

Faris family

Over the next several years, despite the progression of the disease and health setbacks, Jeff would continually set new goals for himself, boxes to check, and "lasts" to embrace.

While living longer than the five years he was given, in 2021, he began to decline more quickly. Jeff had called SSM Health at Home Hospice early with the desire that his family get familiar with it, as with the hospice team with each of them. Throughout his 11-month journey on hospice, Jeff remained home with his family and friends by his side.

On May 12, 2023, after more than seven years of suffering through a courageous journey, with family by his side, he took his final breath and confirmed the truth of life's greatest mystery, peacefully leaving behind his physical body, but not his family – nor his beautiful spirit.
